Second Annual Homecoming Fills November First With Activities

By PAUL SHOOK

Saturday, November 1, CBC will celebrate its second annual homecoming.

The day will begin with a football game beginning at 1:30, which will pit the Hawks against the ever strong Everett squad.

The climax of the day's events will begin at nine in the evening when the student body and graduates will dance to the music of Ken Davidson.

Finalists for the Queen and her court, which will consist of a sophomore queen and two princesses from each class, are Nancy Provins, Donna Moe, Janis Moore, Judy Hett, Linda Mamry, Nancy Hett, Nancy Shanks, and Pat Todorovich, all sophomores; along with Mary Cole, Judy Delsing, Glo-Bobbie Brooks and Linda Mitchell.

Tickets for the "Harvest Moon" are $1.00 per couple, or 75 cents stag, and can be had by contacting Curt Jetton or Judy Hett, general chairman. The semi-formal affair will be held in the student lounge.

The entire series of events will begin on Halloween night with a huge bonfire and pep rally which will be climaxed by a car caravan through the Tri-Cities.

Chairmen for the affair are: Nancy Shanks, publicity; tickets and invitations, Judy Hett; pep rally, Jim Green; music, Lynn Bryson; coronation, Pat Rotan; and decoration, Donna Moe.

Praino Picked For Pep Club

Joe Praino has recently been elected co-president of Talons (pep club). A secretary has not yet been chosen.

Nancy Provins, chairman of the uniform committee reported that they have not decided definitely on the uniforms, but there have been some suggestions. The girls might wear white blouses, royal blue skirts, white leotards, and the same blue and white hat used last year. The boys would wear white shirts, royal blue pants, and the CBC hat.

Talons is thinking about selling booster buttons, tags, and mums for Homecoming. The committee still has to meet with the sophomores.

There will be a pep rally the night before Homecoming, which will be Friday, October 31. A group of CBC students will ride through the Tri-Cities in their cars.

The point system has been set up for Talons. The points are as follows: 50 points for football season, 100 points for basketball, and 50 for baseball. A total of 200 points must be achieved in order to receive a Talon's pin.

Pep Club received $25 from the concessions at the game, $5 for serving at the Debate banquet, and $10 for serving at the language banquet.

Debators Will Host Inter-College Meet

CBC will be host to an invitational debate meet for freshmen and sophomores on a lower division college basis on Friday and Saturday, October 24 and 25. Invitations have been extended to all colleges in the Northwest.

The different types of speaking events that can be entered are: Oxford type debate, impromptu and extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, interpretative reading, and after-dinner speaking.

The following CBC students have entered the contest:

Debate Teams:

1. Lynn Bryson-Sully Bayless
2. Richard Johns-Daryl Johns
3. Bill Dickey-Roger Brown

Extemporaneous speaking: Sully Bayless, Richard Johns, Jerrie Sue Housley, Roger Brown, Bill Dickey.

Impromptu: Sully Bayless, Jerrie Sue Housley, Richard Johns, Roger Brown, Bill Dickey.

Oratory: Sully Bayless, Bill Dickey.

Lynn Bryson will represent CBC in the after dinner speaking at the banquet for all participants on Saturday night.

All CBC students are invited to see any of the daily speeches.

Drama Club To Present 3 Act Play

"Papa Is All," a three-act comedy, will be produced by the CBC Drama Club on November 21 and 22.

Persons interested in joining the Drama club met Tuesday, October 21, to plan the production. Tryouts were held Thursday evening and will be held again next week for anyone interested.

"Papa Is All" is the story of a Pennsylvania Dutch family. There are six parts in the play —three for men and three for women. Other people will be needed for stage crew, make-up, props, etc.

The club plans to present one play each quarter and two performances are scheduled for the high school auditorium.

Collegiate Writers Organize

Lynn Bryson, Editor-in-Chief of the Collegiate last year, was re-elected to head the school newspaper this year.

He will be assisted by Ron Snowden, sports editor; John Jackson and Ivor Hale, head photographers; Dick Nelson, business manager; and Blenda Hooper, ad manager. Miss Marji Wilbur is again advisor for the publication.

Doing the reporting for the year will be Linda Mabry, Charlene Middleborough, Bill Dickey, Marv Gardner, Paul Shook, Dave Keatts, Shirley Mansfield, Mary Ann Long, Sherry Sutton, Jan Lennie, Don Provancher, and Juanita Abbot.

The ad staff is composed of Blenda Hooper and Dave Keatts, while Tillman Moss, Karen Mange, and Jim McCollum will assist John Jackson and Ivor Hale with the photography choices. Linda Mitchell, Gloria Held, and Judi Hamilton will do the typing for the Collegiate.

The Collegiate is an extra-curricular activity this year, being published during the 10:00-10:30 a.m. activity period by students interested in journalism. It will be issued every two weeks, with the price of the subscription included in the activity ticket. Credit for the activity will also be arranged.

U. S. SENATOR HENRY "SCOOP" JACKSON addresses a rather large crowd in the CBC gym, as a climax to the CBC dedication

Jackson Gives Five Point Plan For Education

In a dedication speech at CBC Sunday October 19, Senator Henry Jackson stated, "The quality of education should go up. We must be able to turn out thinking men and women. We should train students to be better in every field." In order to do as much betterment as possible, the Senator outlined a five point plan for improvement.

1. American Government should step up person for person exchange with Russia.

2. American Government should play a permanent role in education.

3. The public should have more respect for their educators.

4. The public's need for a better understanding of the intellectual.

5. The public should understand the intellectual and the spiritual inheritance in a free nation.

Senator Jackson substantiated this plan by making several statements about education. In the first place he stated that with a person for person exchange with Russia, the American citizen could see for himself the benefits of living in a free nation. "He could see America with its perfections and imperfections," stated the Senator. He further said that the Russian citizen in America would be able to go back to his homeland with a force stronger than millions and millions of megatons of atomic bombs.

Senator Jackson said that whether we realized it or not the Federal Government was assisting in the educational program without taking complete control. He gave the example of the National Defense Education Act which was sponsored by himself, Senator Warren Magnuson and Senator Hill. This act was passed last August to give aid to colleges, grant scholarships, especially in the field of the humanities with emphasis on foreign language.

The Senator feels that there should be more respect for the educators from the general public.

He ended his speech by saying that CBC is a fine educational institution and that it is a great asset to the Tri-City area.

Also on the program were welcoming speeches and introductions by Superintendent of Schools Herman F. Jaeger and Director Jack E. Cooney. Cooney spoke on the history of Columbia Basin College. Rev. Paul Sutley gave the invocation and benediction.

Sully Bayless, ASB president, accepted a flag from the local VFW Auxiliary.

An open house followed in all the new college buildings.

Autos Make Traffic Hazard

CBC's daytime enrollment has now swelled to 783 students, giving it the distinction of being the 4th largest Junior College in the State.

A large percentage of these 783 students drive cars to and from school, parking their vehicles in one of the three large lots available. As always, when a sizable number of cars are intent upon arriving at the same destination at approximately the same time, the necessity for careful driving cannot be stressed too strongly. This is especially important during the 8:00 and noon hours, when many students can be found afoot between the maze of parked cars.

The condition of the roads leading into the parking areas, and the lots themselves, has been greatly improved since the beginning of the term, but this does not lessen the need for the safe and sane maneuvering of your automobile.

Let us hope that everyone will join in the effort to make CBC one of the safest schools in the state, as well as one of the largest and nicest.

Moe Takes Poll

By DONNA MOE

While drifting around the CBC halls this week I overheard a lot of the football players discussing the game, so being the inquisitive person I am, I decided to ask what they thought about it. Below are the views they expressed.

Glenn Humphrey: I thought the game was pretty good but we made too many mental errors. I feel they were one of the best teams we have played.

Mick Arledge: I thought if we had played like we were at the end of the second half we would have won.

Ted Kuykendall: It was a

Science Dept. Well Supplied

By MARY ANN LONG

The faculty and students of Columbia Basin College are very fortunate to have at their disposal facilities as complete and modern as those found in the School's Science Department. It consists of a Natural Science lab, a Physics lab, an Electronic Technician training room, a lab in which classes in health and nutrition are held, and two very fine Chemistry labs.

The Chemistry labs are still partially unfinished, but the electricians are working hard to remedy the situation as soon as possible. A recent improvement is the completion of the butane lines in both rooms. The hoods, small cubby holes which serve to draw out poisonous gasses, are also not yet finished, but they are expected to be ready in plenty of time for the first experiments warranting their use if the several missing pieces necessary for their completion can be found. Also, Mr. Reitz reports that the addition of a pencil sharpener in S-104 would be very helpful.

Sign up in Inorganic Chemistry III has been rather heavy this quarter, with 115 students taking the course. It is taught by Mr. Strong and Mr. Reitz.

They are alternating between lab and lecture and collaborating on the work presented. Chemistry 100, a five credit course, is offered for non-Science majors and is taught by Mr. True, with 15 students enrolled. A small class in Organic Chemistry is also available under the direction of Mr. Strong.

The new municipal golf course east of the campus is being laid out by Bob Baldock and Company, golf architects. The course is being built by the city and will be operated by the city park and recreation department.

The course consists of 160 acres and is an 18 hole course. There are ten miles of underground pipe used for irrigation purposes and a two to three acre lake with a two to three million gallon water capacity also used for irrigation purposes.

This golf course is the only one of its kind in the northwest to have between 40 and 50 yards wider fairway.

It is a municipal course and is open to the public as well as to the college for P.E. purposes. In fact, this is the only municipal course in the Tri-Cities.

Builders hope to have the course seeded this fall if the weather holds out. They have not yet decided what it will cost per person to play golf.

The golf course will not be completed and ready for use this school year, however. There is a small chance it may be completed next May, but it would be too late for college use in the P.E. field.

Ken Jacobs: It was all right, I guess, except we lost.

Bill Newborne: I thought we played a good ball game even though the score didn't show it.

Ed Gwinn: There was lots of improvement from the other games but we still need lots more.

Floyd Adams: I thought we did our best.

Mel Hinkle: No comment.

Dave Zank: I didn't think it was very good.

Don Peterson: I think it was the best game we have played. There is still need for improvement.

Les Rurey: We didn't play bad at times but still didn't play up to our standards.

Merrill Blair: I think we played pretty good ball.

City Builds Golf Course Next Door

Enrollment Goes Up 15

Columbia Basin College taken over fourth place at Washington's junior college far as attendance is concerned. This was achieved by the enrollment of 763 full-time students for the daytime class at CBC.

Everett, Clark, and Y.J.C.'s with 1,500, 898, and in that order, still lead but if the rate at which Columbia Basin has been growing continues, it will soon be at the top.

Since 1955, CBC's first, 236 students were enrolled college has grown to its present enrollment of 763. In addition to the daytime students, the different night classes served a total of 1312.

As before the women outnumbered with a ratio of 132 to 30 in the sophomore class and 380 to 103 in the freshman class. That means there are 162 second year men, compared to 443 first

The CBC Hawks have lost all four football games this year. Not a very impressive record. The players have played hard football, but they have made mistakes.

The coaches have made mistakes also. But I believe the greatest amount of blame goes to us, the students of CBC, and the residents of the Tri-City area.

The people in the Tri-City area have everything that anybody could ever want. Most of them have good jobs and many of them the modern conveniences that are available today. Most of the people of the tri-city area have the best of education that can be offered from the elementary level on up to the college level. The parents of this area teach their children to be good sportsmen and to be proud of their schools, but are the parents proud of the schools or do they take them for granted?

As I sat at one of our local high school games the other evening, I overheard the remark made by a spectator that made me feel a little ashamed. He said, and I quote, "Boy, the people of this area sure are a winning team's population." That person is right. When our athletic teams are winning and on top, the people of this area like to watch the different schools play, but the minute one loses a couple of games or more, suddenly everyone has something else to do.

The time the team needs loyal fans is not when they are winning but when they are losing. "You win, and I'll come see you play," is the attitude here. Pretty sad, isn't it? The same applies to CBC. For three years CBC has had a losing football team; the students have not helped this matter either. Only a small majority of students in this school ever show a little interest in football. Why? Because CBC doesn't win every game, that's why. As for spirit, there is none, and I am as guilty as the next person.

I believe that if the students and parents of the Tri-city area would back our football team, along with the other sports, show some interest and make the players feel appreciated a little bit, we would see a real change in the record from Jr. High school all the way up.

After you read this article stop and ask yourself these questions. How much have I backed our school sports, and have I ever shown any real interest in our sports and athletes? This applies to faculty members also.

When you come to a conclusion then maybe we will have better producing teams.

Coach's Comments

Coach "Hal" Akins was very pleased with the performance of his team last Saturday at Yakima. He said the boys played hard football. The thing that hurt the Hawks the most was penalties; Akins stated that the Hawks lost three first downs because of penalties.

The CBC Hawks were penalized 75 yards, while Yakima was penalized only 30. Coach Akins also felt that the Yakima linemen were the best CBC had run up against all year.

He pointed out several players as doing an outstanding job in the Yakima game. At guard position Humpreys was very good. Terry Thompson and Fred Shaffer at ends were out-

Hawks Drop Fourth Game

The Yakima Valley Indians handed CBC's football forces their fourth straight defeat recently, as they clubbed the luckless Hawks 27-8 in a game played at Parker Field in Yakima. The win was the first the Indians have chalked up thus far in conference play.

The Hawks, who have been riddled with injuries to several key players, managed to put up a fight in the first half but couldn't keep up with the hard-charging Yakima boys for the remainder of the contest. The score at the midway point was 14-8, with the edge going to Yakima.

The Hawks only tally came in the second quarter when John Gordan took a hand-off from quarterback Ken Jacobs and romped 53 yards to pay dirt. Bill Robinson then added two extra points on a run off tackle, giving CBC its total of eight.

The Hawks next contest will be a non-conference affair, and the opposition will come in the form of George Fox College.

Seven Hawks Out Of Play

Seven players of the CBC football team will see limited or no further action this season. Bill Johnson, quarterback, received a very badly torn muscle in his leg. It is doubtful if Bill will play anymore.

Chuck Heath, halfback, received several shoulder separations which the doctor reported to be very serious, and Chuck should not continue football this year.

Gary Longmire, lineman, received a bad shoulder separation which sidelined him for the season.

Norris Brown, end, acquired a very badly twisted knee which developed blood deposits around the knee. He is probably out for the season.

Jim Pullis, fullback, injured a vertebrae in his neck, which was serious enough to keep him out for the season.

Chuck Scoonover, guard, received a very bad leg injury. He also had to be hospitalized for a serious neck injury, and his return is doubtful.

Charlie Wilkes, outstanding back, quit the CBC football team and dropped completely out of school.

standing. Jacobs and John Gordan did an exceptional job on offense.

Football Personalities

Dave Milam, ground gaining right halfback for the CBC Hawks, will start the "personalities of the week" editorial on Hal Akins football team.

Dave resided in the state of Texas for his few brief years before entering the field of competitive sports in Pasco Junior High School. During his high school career, Dave was elected vice-president of the freshman class, participated in football and obtained the position of varsity quarterback (1954). Later that year, he became varsity guard on the basketball team and made second base on the baseball team with a .333 average.

His contributions to Pasco High school consisted of left half position in football, guard position in basketball, and he ran relay and sprints during the track season.

Beginning his junior year with more enthusiasm to strive forward, Dave was overwhelmingly voted into the office of junior class president. He helped lead the "Bulldogs" to an 8-1 football record which rated them 4th in the state, according to the AP poll, he was selected as the leading ground gainer of the Tri-City area, and he conquered a position on the All-City All Star team ('56-'57).

During his senior year of high school, despite an injured foot and elbow, Dave's participation in football brought the "Bulldog's" through with a 7-1 record, a berth on the All-City All Star team, and an individual title as the All-State alternate in the East-West football game. This was also Pasco's sixth consecutive win over the Kennewick "Lions" for the Wright-Howard trophy.

The basketball proved skillful in the hands of this lad, when the Bulldogs went to the district tournament, while he held onto his varsity guard position.

As right halfback for CBC, Dave is working with the rest of the "Hawks" to form a good club

Bowling Teams Will Compete

There are five bowling classes at CBC.

Mr. Coplen and Mr. Pyne each have two classes for men. The girls class, instructed by Mrs. Racey, and Mr. Pyne's classes meet at the Tri-City Bowl. The Cloverleaf Lanes are used for Mr. Coplen's classes.

Classes have been improving individual averages for the last few weeks. Mr. Coplen stated that the beginning bowler averaged somewhere between 70 and 90, where the more advanced bowler ranged anywhere from 100 to 200. The classes are divided into teams of four which will compete with each other.

The Cloverleaf Lanes have extended the invitation to college students to bowl each Monday evening. Thirty-two students are participating on eight mixed teams. A team consists of five members, and anyone who is interested in bowling can become a "sixth man" for fill-in purposes. Mr. Coplen stressed that the teams were not sponsored by the school, but by the particular bowling alley. They are sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress and attempts are being made to form an inter-collegiate league. At the present time, however, there have been no meets scheduled with other colleges. Mike Gardner, president of the CBC Bowling Club, cordially extends an invitation to any and all interested students who would like to participate.

Associated Women Students Have Welcoming Tea For Freshman Women

The Associated Women Students of CBC welcomed the freshmen women and the new women students to the ranks of the club Wednesday, October 15, with a tea hosted by returning sophomore members.

Leota Moss, president, welcomed the girls to the tea and spoke briefly of the purposes of the club and of the desire that each girl present become an active member. Represented also were the other school clubs and activities open to the girls' membership. Pat Todorovich spoke for SNEA. Judy Hett represented Ski Club and Shirley Mansfield spoke for Pep Club. Miss Moss briefly touched on Honor Society, the Collegiate, and the annual. Mrs. Venetta Stappler, advisor of the group, was introduced; and the guests were entertained with a piano solo by Carmen Lundgren.

AWS met for the first time this year on September 19 at which time the agenda for the quarter was outlined. Election of a secretary and a treasurer, which will be selected from the freshman girls, is planned for October.

Mrs. Venetta Stappler, advisor of the group, wanted particularly to mention the girl's lounge, which is decorated in colors of persimmon, beige and blue, and also serves as her office. Although not intended entirely as a no-man's land, the women's lounge, as the name would suggest, is primarily for the use of the women students of CBC.

Five Pol. Sci. Students Attend Moscow Confab

Mr. Walter Oberst, CBC instructor, and five political science students attended the Idaho - Washington Regional Workshop on Practical Politics Thursday in Moscow. Political science students attending with Mr. Oberst were Dell McVicker, Robert Varro, Glenn Timm, Wayne Padgett, and Kenneth Lempke.

Featured at the conference were a number of panels on which college instructors and professors and several political figures discussed various aspects of politics.

Robert Varro was elected president of the Young Democrats at a recent meeting. Other officers elected are: Joe Praino, vice-president; Bill Dickey, treasurer; and Jerry Sue Housley, secretary.

The CBC chapter of the Young Democrats of Washington Inc. received its charter from the state association on Saturday, October 18, at the Desert Inn in Richland. Three CBC students were there to represent the local chapter. They were the president, Bob Varro; secretary, Jerry Sue Housley, and Bill Dickey, treasurer.

After the board meeting a social was held which was sponsored by the Benton County Young Demos and the CBC Young Demos.

The CBC club will have to draw up its constitution and send in state dues before its name will be put on the register of the state organization. A group is working on the constitution this week.

Mr. Rudy Rice from Richland is the representative for the state to the local club. He will be a consultant to help the club in any way. Mr. Walter Oberst, Political Science Instructor at CBC is the Faculty Advisor for Political groups in the college.

CBC Library To Boast Total Of 2500 Books

Mrs. Ruth Partch, librarian, announces the school library will be open between 7:50 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and between 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Miss Naomi Durkee is reference and circulation librarian. She will check out books, take care of reserve lists and help with any problems concerning the library. Leota Moss, Clara Hooper and Julia Brown will also work in the library.

The library specializes in reference books, non-fiction and special books which are teachers reserve lists. A special three-day reserve list for long reference material has also been made. Other features of the library are, a pencil sharpener, a beautiful view, and various magazines. The library is in the "C" building across from the offices.

CBC's library is in the interim library system and can get to 100 books a month from the Mid-Columbia library.

Only the finishing touch need to be added before the 2,500 book library is completed.

Students are invited to the library for study in the morning as well as during the day.

Young GOP Meets

The first meeting of Young Republicans of CBC was held last week.

Mr. Carl Perry, who in the Franklin County campaign manager for William Banty, representative for the United States Senate, led the discussion. A temporary chairman and secretary were appointed until the regular officers can be elected.
